Remove Bureaucratic Barriers!

ENDSTATE:
 Warrior Transition Units are established along with the Triad of support consisting of primary care manager, nurse case manager, and squad leader. We have streamlined the issues affecting Family care and disposition. The Soldier and Family Assistance Centers are established as entry points for Warriors in Transition. Confidence is restored in the Army with the American people.

MISSION:

The United States Army establishes an integrated and comprehensive continuum of care and services for Warriors and their Families being treated at Department of the Army Medical Treatment Facilities in conjunction with Department of Defense, Veterans Affairs, and Civilian facilities NLT 01 January 2008 in order to provide world class care which is commensurate with their sacrifice and service to the Nation.
